Dear General Walters:

This is in reference to the above-named officer who is being considered for an assignment as Army Attache, Portugal. This officer served under you from 3 Jun 63 to 12 Jun 65. In view of the nature of this assignment, all of his qualifications must be carefully considered. The decision as to his suitability for this assignment must, in part, be based on information not normally available in official files.

This assignment also requires that his family be socially acceptable. Every action, official and personal, of the officer and his family, will be closely scrutinized by the foreign populace and evaluated and commented upon by other US officers, allied officers, and members of the American Embassy. The reputation of the Army and the prestige of the United States in foreign countries partially rests on the personal and official conduct of officers and their families in assignments of this type.

Understandably, many officers are reluctant to comment on the character, deportment and morals of another officer and his family, particularly if derogatory information is involved. However, it is essential that such information, complimentary or otherwise, be made available for consideration.

In the interest of the United States and the Army, your opinion on the suitability of this officer and his family, for the above assignment, is requested. Request that you consider this officer and his family in all aspects and indicate whether or not you would recommend him for this assignment. Your reply will be treated in the strictest confidence and will be destroyed as soon as a final decision is made.

Sincerely yours,

Army review(s) completed.
